Others who assisted in the hospitalities were Mrs. A. Carman, Mrs. Marvin Fulton, Mrs. Rupert Parks, Mrs. Arthur Farmer, and Mrs. Gattin Clopton.

Fifty called during the hours.

New York's Statue of Liberty are exporting constantly America's four "M's". Movies, munitions, merchants, missionaries—are they wanted by the importers? "American Exports" will be the theme of the sermon to be preached by the minister of the Presbyterian Church Sunday morning at 11:00. This follows the Sunday School service at 10 a. m.

The college class will begin a study of "The Sermon on the Mount", stressing a personal application of its teachings. Services will be held in the Court House.

Havens To Give Away Art Copies

"Sermons on Religious Art," is the new series of Sunday night sermons which A. V. Havens, minister of the First Christian Church, will begin Sunday night. Each sermon in the series will be based upon some world-famous painting of the passion of Jesus and an accurate copy of the painting, on heavy coated paper, suitable for framing, will be given away one to each family represented at the services.

"The Trial Before Pilate," will be the subject of the first sermon, Sunday night. The great painting of this subject by Mihaly Munkacsy will be used in the sermon and beautiful copies of this painting will be given away. "We would like to give every boy, and girl and adult one of these paintings," Mr. Havens said. "However, due to the extreme cost, we have decided to give one copy of each painting to every family." "If God Is Like Christ," will be the sermon at the Sunday morning worship service. "The ultimate power of the universe is accurately pictured in the personality of Jesus, what are the implications for our daily living? That," Mr. Havens stated, "is the question faced in this sermon. It is a question which blind, superstitious faith never faces."

The service will begin at 10:45.

Choral music will be presented by the chorus choir directed by Everett Crane.

The Sunday School will begin Sunday morning at 9:30, led by Superintendent George S. Hart. The Christian Endeavor Societies will meet Sunday evening at 6:30. The Mid-week meeting, Wednesday night at 7:15, will be led by Mrs. W. Z. Carter. Mrs. Harry Broach will be the music sponsor. The Circleettes of the Service Circle will meet Tuesday afternoon at 2:30, at the home of Mrs. Harry Broach.

Cut-Rate Tires Promise Trouble

Rapidly increasing cost of crude rubber and cotton fabric has brought about a condition which promises trouble for users of cut-rate and cheaply-built truck tires. It was pointed out today by Charles J. Jahant, vice president of the General Tire and Rubber Company.

"For some years past, prices of crude rubber and cotton fabric have been so low that it has been cheaper to use them than to resort to substitutes in the manufacture of truck tires," he said, "As a result, second, third and fourth line truck tires did a fairly good job, from the rubber and the fabric standpoint.

"Now, however, prices of both crude rubber and good fabric have increased so greatly that it has become more economical for manufacturers of the cheaper grades of truck tires to resort to reclaimed rubber and cheaper fabric—and they have been doing so, to a very marked degree.

"Consequently, operators should be warned that it is not only uneconomical to purchase second, third and fourth line truck tires, in the first place, but they are proving to be very treacherous merchandise to risk truck cargoes on, under present high-speed traffic conditions."

WESTERN TOPS MURRAY 37-32 FOR SIAA TITLE

GOVERNOR ANNOUNCES ALL STAR CAGE TEAM

Western State Teachers College defeated the Murray State quintet 37-32 to gain the SIAA conference championship for 1937 at Bowling Green last night. With Western leading 21-14 at the time the Murray lads came back to forge ahead in the final stanza only to be downed in the last minutes of play by the Hilltoppers.

It was anybody's game until the last four minutes when Saddle, hot shooting sophomore, tallied two field goals and a free throw by Lamar to forge the Westerners into a safe lead for the final whistle.

With 8 minutes to play the game stood 28 all. Then Western forged into the lead with a free throw and a field goal only to be tied 32-32 by the Murray lads when McKeel easily dropped two crisps into the basket. Western then came back to gain the lead, holding it to the final gun.

Gov. A. B. Chandler presented the championship trophy to Coach Ed Diddle of Western. The Governor also announced the All-Tournament team, declaring his belief it could "compete successfully with any team in the country."

The team selected by coaches and sports writers, was composed of "Roosie" Armstrong, Union University guard; Floyd Burdette, Murray, forward; Stanley Arzenen, Morehead forward; Bill McCrackin, Western center; and McKeel, Murray, center. Position of players were not considered in the selection.

The second team named was: Reed, Western; Rutherford, Union; Dudgeon, Western; Graham, Murray; and Saddle, Western.

Manages Regional Tournament

Prin. Ed Filbeck

because it requires about the same amount of feed to feed a hen that will lay 25 eggs a year as to feed a hen that will lay 150 eggs a year.

Third—How Many Chicks Do I Need? One should put on three eggs for each mature pullet desired for the flock. This should take five eggs for each mature pullet. Of course these figures depend on one's ability to raise chicks after they are put in the brooder and with proper care this should be ample.

Fourth—How Much Brooder Space Do I Need? One should allow 2 1/2 chicks to the square foot in preparing for a brood of chicks.

Fifth—Kind of Brooder House. There are many commercial brooders on the market that are very satisfactory. There are several types of home made brooders that have proven satisfactory here in this country. The double oil drum brooder or the brick brooder are very good and plans for building these can be obtained from the office of the County Agent.

Sixth—How Much Feed Will It Require to Carry These Chicks Through to Mature Pullets? The first twelve weeks the chicks will eat 7 pounds of feed each. At this time the cockles should be sold and from then on until maturity the pullets will eat 16 pounds of feed each or a total of 1320 to 1400 pounds of feed for each 100 chicks placed in the brooder from one day to 6 months old, at the age when they should begin laying. It requires the same amount of feed to bring a pullet to maturity whether it takes 6 months or 12 months. One should feed sufficient amount of proper feed so that the chicks will grow large enough to begin laying in six months.

Seventh—The Type of Feeders to Use and Amount of Space. One should use feeders that are not wasteful and should allow one inch to the chick up until 4 weeks of age and 2 inches to the chick from 4 weeks to 6 months. In other words the commercial feeders that have room for the chicks to feed from both sides, that is a 4 feet long would be space enough for 4 chicks that were four weeks old, then it would take another feeder of the same size to have space enough for them from then on. Water pans should be of the type that will clean easily and should hold enough water that they will never be empty.

Eighth—Ventilation. All brooder houses should be ventilated. A 4x4 ft. moshin curtain will provide enough ventilation without drafts. Otherwise the house should be tight and free from drafts but in no case should baby chicks or old hens for that matter be closed in a house that is without any sort of ventilation.

Ninth—Temperature of Brooder. To get the proper temperature of the brooder one should place a thermometer about 8 inches from the brooder and 1 1/2 inches from the floor and have the brooder stove so regulated that this will reach about 95 degrees when the chicks are placed in the brooder. At this time it is best to take the thermometer out of the brooder and watch the movement of the chicks to know the amount of heat that is required. If they huddle against the stove they are too cold and if they hover against the wall, they are too hot. The proper place for them to roost is about half way between the stove and the wall so that they can move in if they get cold and move out if they get hot.

Tenth—Sanitation. Baby chicks raised on contaminated soil will never do "much" good and contaminated soil is in practically every poultry yard in Calloway county. The poultry department of the University recommends for poultry producers on flat land the yard system, which will allow the poultrymen to grow their chicks on a yard that has been free of any type of poultry for the last two years. A very good method is to have three yards of approximately one-third acre, each and have the chicks on one yard and the garden on another and the other yard will be an ideal place for the chicks another year. In this way the droppings from the chicks will be already on the ground for the garden for the following year and each year the chicks get clean ground that has been seeded down and a good established. This type of garden should be sufficient for 200 baby chicks to start and for the pullets to remain in the yard until time to put them in the laying house in the fall. This way they will be grown and fully matured before they are placed in contact with diseases that might be prevalent in the poultry house or old yard.

Gardens. The County Agent has received a number of requests concerning the proper type of garden seeds and plants to use. A few of the best varieties are as follows: Potatoes: Every farmer should plant enough early triumphs to furnish his table until early fall. At this time he should have sufficient quantity of Irish cobbles.

Thieves Loot Smokehouse

Prin. Ed Filbeck

Thieves entered the smokehouse of J. L. Cochrum, prominent citizen of the Lynn Grove community, Sunday night and stole 5 hams and 3 shoulders. Although having some idea of the persons taking the meat Mr. Cochrum said he could not be sure enough for conviction. However he would offer a reward of $50.00 for the arrest and conviction of the parties taking the meat.

SCOT TO KANSAS. Many Calloway county Legionnaires will be interested to learn that A. L. Scott, outstanding Legion Leader of Paducah, is now located in Leavenworth, Kansas, where he has a small insurance brokerage business.

Mr. Scott, who was in the insurance business in Paducah, writes that he was completely wiped out by the flood, he and his family saving only a few articles of clothing and some bedding.

Mr. Scott has been an outstanding leader in Legion affairs and is the first department vice-commander of Kentucky. He has many friends among the Calloway county veterans who will regret to learn of his misfortune and who trust that he will soon return to Kentucky.

Locust Grove News. Miss Edna Pace has arrived home after spending the week with her sister, Mrs. Dow Clark of Paducah.

Miss Isabelle Hardy of Paducah is spending the week with Miss Earlene and Nell Pace of Almo.

Mr. Callis came to Murray from Mayfield about a year ago and we are glad to note his success.

Landlords, or others having an interest in the crops or the livestock to be fed, will be required to waive their claims in favor of the lien to the Governor of the Farm Credit Administration until the loan is repaid.

LEGISLATOR SHOT AT TOURNAMENT

Prin. Ed Filbeck

State Representative Joe Robinson was shot in the arm during a basketball game here Saturday night. The shooting, according to reports, Hamilton asked Robinson to "move in the wrist and arm at a basketball game here Saturday night was reported improved by hospital attaches.

James Hamilton, 24, who was arrested for the shooting was placed under $1000 bond pending appearance before County Judge Virgil Lee. Hamilton was later turned over to physicians for observation.

About 2000 persons attended the basketball game and several saw the shooting. According to reports, Hamilton asked Robinson to "move in the wrist and arm at a basketball game here Saturday night was reported improved by hospital attaches.

The incident occurred at a tournament game between Danville and Junction City after which Robinson was to award the trophies. The representative is a wealthy farmer and publisher from Garrard county and the brother of State representative C. Robinson of Boyle county. No persons could be assigned for the shooting.

Kirksey High School. By Sue Marine, Hilda Johnson, Ruth Hanly, and Maurine Rogers.

Basketball News. Three rousing cheers for Kirksey's Eagles! That's what we say. How about you? Three times they've won the county tourney, and three times they've won the district tourney; and twice they've won the Regional; with a third soon to be added—we hope. Friday night our boys meet Sharpe in their first round in the Regional.

One more treasure is added to our collection of trophies. Mr. Hart is having a new trophy case made—the old one is too small to hold the trophies we have won.

Kirksey High School expresses its thanks to Murray High School for the courtesy it has shown us through the County and District tournaments.

The community here is making up a sum of money to buy each of our Eagles a sweater. No other team has done for Kirksey what they have done. They deserve something other than words and so we want to give them each a sweater to take out into life with them. A sweater which will wear it will stir their pride as they think of how they got it and from where it came. Four of our boys graduate this year and we cannot find words to express our sorrow at their going.

The students entering in the musical and interscholastic contest are working diligently and with determination to win honors.

Home Economics News. They are crowded round the tables these days. The Home Ec. girls are having a dinner unit in six weeks and from the Home Ec. cabin doors and windows float many an appetizing order. Mr. Lassiter took dinner with us one day last week and nothing serious happened so some time in the future we are doing to ask the other teachers over to sample the cooking of such young but anxious-to-learn cooks.

Kirksey's affirmative debating team was scheduled to meet Fayette on Tuesday afternoon for a debate on the state question. It was to be a practice debate with no decision given.

4-H Club Clothing Project. Three of our members enrolled in the clothing project—too late to be eligible for merit last month. Their record will be included in this list for March. Following is the record of merits for February: Laura Lynn Radford, 22, Evelyn Dell Cain, 21, Jo Workman, 20, Agnes Greenfield, 19, Virginia Martin, 17, Josephine Darnell, 17, Malvena Harris, 14.

There are five articles to be completed in the first year's work. Six of the girls have completed the first two, and they are now working on the third.

On Saturday afternoon, February 27, after our work period was over and our health records for the month were turned in, the leader entertained us. We played several games and had a jolly good time. Then came marshmallows on hot chocolate, and 4-leaf clover cookies with green frosting. Following the center was the letter "H," made with the green frosting. We enjoyed the afternoon very much.

NOTICE. The Calloway county singing convention will meet at Lynn Grove High School building Saturday and Sunday, March 20 and 21. Meeting will begin at 7 p. m. Saturday.

The pastor will fill his regular appointments at Hazel and Mason's Chapel Sunday.

The Rev. K. G. Dunn is much better now and he feels that he won't have to be away from his work on account of illness, so let's rally to the cause and have a large attendance at both churches Sunday.

"What is Faith?" Will be the topic for discussion at the morning service. It was by faith that the Elders obtained a good report. Surely, a topic so important deserves studying and restudy, for we can hardly over-emphasize it.

It is by faith that we enjoy the hope of salvation. And what the anchor is to the ship, hope is to the Christian. It is that steady and comforting influence which enables the Christian to weather the storms of life and moor his soul in that harbor "Beyond the veil." Most of us would have long ago been deterred from our course, had we not been sustained by the hope of salvation which we enjoy by faith in God's promises.

TOP THIS QUILT

The Ledger & Times apparently has started something similar to parallel lines that are said to meet only in infinity. The Ledger & Times' "high-piece quilt" write-ups would seem to STOP only at infinity.

Mrs. Ardell Knight, of South Ninth St., Murray, tells us that she has a quilt containing 12,826 squares in it. The pieces are squares, each a little smaller than a postage stamp.

Will 12,826 pieces quiet the soap people of Calloway? We hope not.

MURDER DERIDED IN MILLER DEATH

No Bruise on His Body Could Have Caused the Death of Dennis Miller

"There were absolutely no signs of foul play on the body of Dennis Miller," said J. H. Churchill, Calloway county coroner, Saturday. "The only place the skin was broken was on his shin. Apparently he had 'barked' it."

Moreover, according to the coroner, there was no bruise on his skull that could have caused his death. The bruise above his right eye cleared up almost immediately, according to the younger Churchill, who had charge of the embalming.

Miller's body was found stretched in the creek as if he had leaped over in an attempt to get a drink. His left arm was outstretched, his right hand to his chest.

According to Leslie Fugue, who was among the first to visit the scene of the accident, Miller had apparently climbed down the side of the culvert to ease his feet after the long walk from town. He had removed one shoe, and had opened a small penknife to cut the leather. While engaged in this he evidently decided to get a drink from the stream and when he had leaped over to get it, had been unable to rise. That some water had entered his mouth and throat was evinced by the fact that a quantity had run out when the body was taken from the water.

Sheriff Carl Kingins, who also derided the possibility of murder advanced the theory that Miller had had a heart attack when he lowered his head to drink from the stream, and had succumbed before he could turn over or set up. The victim had not had his pockets rifled. His purse, containing some small change and papers, had not been touched.

"Miller could not have been held under water without struggling," said the sheriff, "and there were no signs of any struggle in the vicinity."

Correction

The Ledger & Times, through an unintentional error, stated last week that it was Dan Edwards, who had been robbed by A. B. Dunn and J. T. Bynum charged with the offense. It should have read Howard Edwards, who is the son of Dan Edwards. The original item about the alleged robbery, correctly stated that it was Howard Edwards who was victimized and we trust that last week's error, for which we apologize to all concerned, will lead no one to think that Dan Edwards had also been robbed.

A registered Poland-China bear was bought last month by W. L. Kessler of Green county.

J. N. "Buddy" Ryan Scores Immense Catch

Pictured above are a big bob cat and eight coons which were captured Friday night, January 15, 1937, by J. N. "Buddy" Ryan, widely known Murray hunter, and hunting party. The game was captured by Mr. Ryan and his famous pack of hounds in the hills and Buffalo River bottom in Southwest Tennessee.

The bob cat is four feet and ten inches long and will be mounted by Mr. Ryan as a trophy of the most successful, thus far, of his several highly successful hunts.

The fame of Mr. Ryan as a hunter and also of his pack of hunting hounds has been spreading wider and wider. Last season six coons were bagged in one night in a hunt in the big woods of Kentucky. Since boyhood Mr. Ryan has been a successful hunter and trainer of hunting dogs.

Rural Highway Building Will Be Pushed in Kentucky This Year

FRANKFORT, Ky., March 8.—That rural highway construction in Kentucky would be at a maximum and the fiscal year, starting April 1, would be a banner one, was indicated with the announcement today by Rural Highway Commissioner Cecil Williams, that the counties in the State not only would have approximately the same amount as allotted in the 1936-1937 program, but in 31 counties there would be available extra money in the amount of $437,369.94, the remainder of a Federal Flood Relief appropriation made in 1927.

With the much broader program in mind, engineers and supervisors from the Rural Highway Department are now conferring with officials in each of the State's 120 counties, preparing projects. Commissioner Williams declared that work would start in all sections immediately after April 1, and before mid-summer it will be at its height.

Engineers of Rural Highways, D. M. Phelps, Jr., is now meeting with W.P.A. Area Engineers in every District in the State, to ascertain to what extent the W.P.A. will cooperate this year with the Division of Rural Highways in the construction and surfacing of roads and the construction and repair of bridges.

In planning for the 1937-1938 work, the engineers and county officials are asked to give first thought and preference to the secondary and feeder roads over which school buses and rural mail carriers must pass. The Department entertains high hope of having the majority of these roads graded, drained and in many instances, surfaced before the end of the fiscal year.

Congress has appropriated to the State of Kentucky the amount of $469,000.00 for each of the Federal Fiscal years of 1938 and 1939 for use on secondary highways. These funds must be matched dollar for dollar. The rules and regulations of the United States Department of Agriculture permit approximately 8-17 of this amount to be spent on the State Highway System and the remainder, or $248,000.00 per year, on the secondary highway system. This means that the Division of Rural Highways must arrange to meet this amount during the next two fiscal years, with funds appropriated for use on roads not now being maintained or constructed by the Department of Highways.

All county judges and fiscal courts in the State have been notified that the $248,000.00 sum is now ready and to make plans accordingly. No part of this money is to be spent on any of the Federal or State Highway System, that is on any road that has been accepted by the Department of Highways for maintenance, or is being constructed or reconstructed by the Department of Highways. The projects improved must be on the primary system as the Department must assume maintenance of the projects after completion. Projects which have been started by the Highway Department and have been abandoned before completion may, however, be included in the program.

In planning for the program the Commissioner declared that the work of roadway in each project will depend upon the location, character and traffic requirements and must meet the recommendations of the Federal, State and Rural Highway Engineers. The Commissioner pointed out to the County Judges that in planning, all projects should include the surfacing, unless impossible to do so. These Federal funds will be available July 1, 1937, and bids may be taken as soon after April 1, 1937, as plans and estimates are available. These funds cannot be widely scattered in the counties and necessarily will have to be expended on good projects.

With such funds available all county fiscal courts, by taking advantage of the Federal funds, will be able to double all or a portion of their Rural Highway fund.

120 Attend Legion Fish Fry Thursday Night; Have Building Lot

More than 120 veterans attended the fish fry given last Thursday night by Murray Post of The American Legion. The feed was held in the club rooms of the Business and Professional Woman's Club in the basement of the Peoples Savings Bank building after the business session held in the circuit court room.

Several veterans paid their 1937 dues at the meeting, bringing the 1937 membership close to the century mark.

George Hart, of the building committee, made a report of the committee's action in purchasing a lot on Vine street in South Murray, between Sixth and Eighth streets. The veterans approved the action of the committee.

At the April meeting, Thursday, April 1, donations of money, labor and material will be tabulated and definite plans made for construction of the club house.

126 in Calloway Average $10.05 Monthly State Old Age Pensions

As Old Age Assistance entered its eighth month of actual existence in the State of Kentucky, the number of aged indigents receiving this aid in Calloway county from the State Department of Welfare has been increased to 126 who are getting a total of $1,267.50 or an average of $10.05 per each, each month, according to an announcement made today by Dr. A. Y. Lloyd, director of the Division of Old Age Assistance. The number of old folk to receive aid in this county will be increased monthly until all who have applied are properly cared for.

The steady monthly increase in grants has brought the total up to 17,812 in the 120 counties in the State to receive checks for the month of February. This number cashed checks amounting to $17,988.15 or an average of $10.04 per grant. This represents a State wide increase of 2,372 grants amounting to $24,125 per month.

Conforming with the grant increase made during the early winter months, the Division of Old Age Assistance has gradually increased the State wide average per recipient. In August, 1936, when the first grants were made to 238 recipients who drew a total of $1,769.45, or an average of $7.43 per grant.

The Kentucky law does not provide for a maximum grant for each applicant over 65 years old. The grants are made on a basis need, living cost with only the most destitute allowed the full $15.00. However, a close study of Kentucky's average shows that it compares favorably with other states having the same maximum. It is considerably higher than most Southern Agricultural states. Compared with Mississippi, the Kentucky grants are exceptionally high. That state, in somewhat similar economic circumstances to Kentucky, is now averaging only $9.58 per grant.

BURKEEN MAY RUN

L. A. Burkeen, Dexter Route 1, disclosed today that he might run for magistracy in the Wadesboro precinct at the county elections this fall. Friends and neighbors have been urging him to seek the office he said, and he thought that if enough people wanted him to make the race, he would announce formally for the candidacy later. This is Burkeen's first venture into public office seeking.

War On Drunken Drivers

Governor Chandler's instruction to the state highway patrol to be especially vigilant in apprehending drunken drivers on the highways will be generally approved. And as the admonition is carried into effect all will applaud this effort to reduce the hazards of the highways—except those who are caught driving motor cars in a condition of intoxication which renders them a menace.

The highway patrol has sufficiently demonstrated its usefulness as a law enforcing body as to with commendation of the public. Personnel of the patrol is of exceptionally high caliber. Extreme caution has been exercised in selection of the men who compose the patrol. They are courteous but firm in the discharge of their duties and are demonstrating their effectiveness in promoting public safety.

JUST JOTS

By Joe

Residents on the East side of Brandon's Mill are complaining quite a bit about the delay in construction of this important bridge, which was washed out by the flood.

We don't blame them—and it has cost Murray quite a bit of business for people east of Blood River in that section have been obliged to go elsewhere to do their trading.

Traffic in that important section of Calloway county has been entirely localized between Blood and Tennessee Rivers.

Dan Dill, well known and popular merchant just across the river, was in Murray Monday morning and said he had to come to town by way of Concord—quite a piece to reach Murray from Pine Bluff.

We would hesitate to blame anyone connected with the state highway department, which has this road under its maintenance wing now, until we know the reasons for this bridge being so long delayed.

We have no doubt but that there are good reasons for the delay. However, we are quite sure the good people of that section would feel better if they knew why and would not be feeling neglected.

So far as we have been able to determine the state highway department is doing a conscientious job.

We haven't always agreed politically with Mr. Robert Humphreys the highway commissioner (that's a small point anyway) but it appears to us that he's doing a splendid job of being a fair, efficient and capable commissioner.

Speaking of politics, we are reminded that two years ago we unintentionally did Eunie Jeffrey, a candidate for Calloway's seat in the Kentucky General Assembly, a great injustice. In an article which came out Thursday before the election on Saturday, which was written hurriedly in an effort to make the deadline, we unfortunately omitted Mr. Jeffrey's name from the list of candidates.

At the time, Mr. Jeffrey was kind enough to tell us that we couldn't blame him much though we had rather cut off our right arm than intentionally treat any candidate in that manner.

The other day, Mr. Jeffrey was kind enough to tell us that he had made a complete check of the entire thing and had satisfied himself completely that it was unintentional error on our part. We are glad he made a check-up—in fairness to both of us.

This newspaper never had and never intends to take any part in local campaigns. First, we believe the voters of Calloway county are entirely capable of making up their own minds without being dictated to by a newspaper editor or any body else.

It is our aim to treat all candidates as nearly alike as it is humanly possible to do so.

When they wish to purchase space in our columns to present their claims, merits and capabilities or to buy printing of various kinds it is our desire and shall be our intent to be strictly and consistently impartial—giving no one any unfair advantage in any way.

That has always been the policy of this writer and he has never seen a single sound reason for changing it.

When Mayor Miller of Louisville made his great flood speech over the radio last January more people heard him than ever heard any one person's voice at one time in all the history of the world. Of the radio hook-up were all the stations of both the Columbia and National Broadcasting systems, 495 independent stations in the United States and literally hundreds of foreign stations.

Lots of people cuss the Utilities. And while we hold no special brief for them, it is true that many a vote-seeking Demagogue goes utility baiting to trap an unwitting voter. Nevertheless the utilities certainly covered themselves with glory in their magnificent flood work. Despite costly damages to property and equipment, stupendous emergency costs in operation and slaughtered revenues they performed many great services without charge.

The great labor movement sweeps onward. One Murray hardware dealer told us this week that prices on farm implements were soon to go up 10 to 20%. Reason: greater cost of steel. The steel makers have to get more money for their product because wages are being increased heavily.

Thus far, farm prices have risen more since 1932 than the cost of things the farmer buys. That is only proper and just because four or five years ago the price of farm products had gone down much more than other costs.

However, unless the farmer watches pretty closely he's going to lose that gain in rising prices of other things. He's got to stick-brother-stick if he's to be saved.

Poultry Tips From County Agent's Office

Farmers faced a very difficult situation during the past summer, namely, that of feeding their flocks properly. However, the hope of gain in the future kept you on the job and caused you to come through with a flock producing pullets. This same hope to achieve should aid you in making plans now for another year.

Plans must be made some months in advance if poultry raising is to be profitable. Some things which should be given attention now are:

1. Decide how many chicks will be brooded.
2. Get in touch with a good hatchery. Determine which hatchery you will buy from and place your order early. Your local hatchery or one near by you can probably meet your needs.
3. Build a brooder house or make needed repairs on your old one.
4. If you already have a brooder house, how is the time to move it to a new location.
5. Build a sun-porch and be ready to take advantage of all good days during the brooding period.
6. Feeders of different sizes will be needed during the growing season. More time is available for making them now than will be later, so why not make them, and be ready when brooding time comes?
7. Every farm on which chicks are brooded in a brooder house needs a large outdoor feeder and a 50-gallon barrel to hold water. During the winter is an ideal time to get these things ready.
8. Get your plans for a summer range shelter and build one during the next few months.
9. A field of alfalfa near the poultry house would lower your feed bill 20 to 25 per cent. Plan to sow a few acres this spring.

George W. Morris

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Thompson of Liberty were called to the bedside of Mrs. Thompson's stepfather, George W. Morris, who suffered a third stroke of paralysis February 7 and died February 9. Funeral services were held from the Gordon Graveyard February 10.

He was the stepfather of Mrs. Cora Hartley of Paducah, Mrs. C. E. Hatcher of Murray, Mrs. Hosen Dixon, near Dexter, Henry Burken of Dexter Route One, Mrs. Virnie McGrew, Detroit, Mich., and Mrs. Hardy Sutherland, of near Penny with whom he and Mrs. Morris had made their home for the past two years. Maxie Puckett of Dexter is the only grandchild.

"Uncle George," as he was known, was a faithful Sunday School worker until about three years ago when he suffered his first stroke of paralysis, after which he remained in bad health until death came.

THE PUBLIC VOICE

Contributions to this column upon topics of interest are always welcome. They do not necessarily express the views of this newspaper.

EMERGENCY IS OVER

The Red Cross Chapter of Calloway has since January 24 been engaged in emergency relief of flood refugees.

The chapter acted upon its own initiative as volunteers for the relief of Paducah people who in enormous numbers had to leave their homes and be cared for in neighboring towns. The people of Calloway responded generously in donations of food and bedding and opened their homes as temporary concentration centers. I would like to hear from all persons who donated money and to whom paid, also articles of value, coats, other articles of bedding kind and quantity of food products etc., delivered anywhere for relief. This is to know the source of money and other things of value. We will not advertise your name if it is your request. A postal card will bring the necessary information above requested.

We, as a chapter of the organization, have a right to a summary of our work and to see that the proper accounting of all donations have been made. We will be glad to return any articles that were loaned rather than donated, as we are sure that many articles were loaned by persons who were not able to donate. However, we cannot assume responsibility for articles in case of loss or damage. It will be difficult in all cases to identify articles and we as managers who were working without pay, could not be responsible for so many items in the rush.

For four weeks the National Red Cross representative has been in charge and making allowing of claims which are to be paid by the National Red Cross direct upon certification but must be signed by me as acting chairman of the county (without pay). I have signed all claims and I hope all have been of proven value because anyone who would use extortion in times like this and cause me to certify a claim unjustly and leave a record that would show extravagance or signs of fraud would truly show a poor sense of appreciation. It was impossible to inspect values and I was not even the buyer or inspector upon receiving merchandise or other things of value. We had a problem of our own, having some 20,000 acres in Calloway under water and many persons were forced from their homes and much loss recorded in feed and livestock.

We went to the rescue of all our own valley people as it was possible to locate that were in need, and now the rehabilitation or case work as it is called, has started and each case must stand inspection to merit. Those receiving losses should make surveys of the damage and be ready for the inspector in order to save time. The manner and amount of allowances are unknown to me—if do nations are loans, this is National Red Cross work.

I did not seek the position as chairman—I always dread it in times of local activity, having to act quickly in most cases that affect people personally is a dangerous task. The Red Cross is an organization that lives—saves life and property in all the world every day in every year but derives its resources from the willing and liberal people and is a tax upon them as is any government activity, and as sacred as church and charity. It is the one place where all people come to the aid of the distressed regardless of the location of those in need. We hope that more persons will become Red Cross minded.

We would encourage the Junior order of Red Cross, it will aid in life training and history of childhood days.

On behalf of the local chapter I thank all for the cooperation received.

Almo High School

This is the last school week of year for the first grades. We will be very lonesome without them, as they have been a very vital and important part of our school. They have given us the very best of assistance everytime we called upon them.

They presented three of the best chapel programs we have had this year.

Most of our high school is very busy preparing for the scholastic, music, and speech tournament to be held in the near future.

We have had 10 debates up to date and have several remaining on our schedule.

Basketball play was concluded last week in the District tournament, when we were defeated by Calvert City 24-12.

We now plan to start volleyball and an intramural basketball tournament. Softball will be started in about three weeks.

During the regular basketball season we played 14 games, winning 7 and losing 7.

We are planning to have a group of the WSM "Grand Ole Opry" stars with us about the last week in April. Watch the paper for announcements for a list of the stars and the exact date.

Work is progressing rapidly on the freshman play. The play will be given Saturday night, March 20.

Eagle, you just rave when you are ill and have to take lots of medicine. That doesn't sound like the patience of Job—and, too, you don't like pets. I really don't like our cat for she scratches, but our dog is the smartest and blabbiest one in the radius of a mile. Now, how's that?

Chatterbox, you say you like praise and that it helps one along. You tried yourself on your "last letter. It was fine. They are all good but the last one was never more interesting and inspiring.

Hurrah for giving Mr. Cook "flowers." Your eulogy sheers the slowly passing hours while meditating over the esteem you regard him in as a neighbor and friend of which he justly deserves and for such goodly deeds and he'll be rewarded with stars in his crown.

Your Neighbor's Plan

YOUR NEIGHBOR HAS A PLAN that saves him a lot of worry and it often helps him make a bigger success of his work.

He makes it a rule to keep part of his money invested where he can get it quickly at any time. He is always ready for the unexpected demand.

His favorite plan is to get a Certificate of Deposit for the sum he wishes to keep in his surplus fund. The bank guarantees him a certain rate of profit and yet he can have the money again quickly at any time.

It's a good plan to have some money where you can put your hand on it any time. But this money can be earning more profit for you if you adopt the "C. of D." plan.

Think it over?

in the Ford "60"

THE 60-horsepower Ford V-8 engine was first developed for Europe, where fuel costs are high. Two years' usage there proved its unusual economy.

When the "60" came to this country this year, the Ford Motor Company made no mileage claims—waited for facts, written on American roads by American drivers.

Now Ford "60" owners are reporting averages of 22 to 27 miles on a gallon of gasoline. That makes it the most economical Ford car ever built!

Best of all, the Ford "60" is just as big and roomy—just as handsome, sturdy and safe—as the famous 85-horsepower Ford V-8. And it sells at the lowest Ford price in years.

If you want a big car for a small budget—a car you can drive with pride and profit—see the thrifty "60" soon!
